
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, February 15, 2017 2:15 PM
To: Office of the Legislative Counsel
Subject: teachers

Teachers are not the problem. The complete structure of the system, needs to change. We need a system tailored to the individual student. Math is the biggest problem we have. Basic math to students who plan to go in to job fields that don't require advanced math. If they change their minds later in life, they can upgrade their education. Pretty simple. but very effective.

This email has been checked for viruses by Avast antivirus software.
www.avast.com